HEALTH COUNCIL AGENDA: Talking of Friday's Health Council, while the agenda may make it look like a heavy affair, Council officials expect it to last no more than four hours. The (really) good news: you can be a fly on the wall and listen to what health ministers have to say about your topic of choice by watching the live webstream starting 10:00 a.m. Brussels time.

Call for price transparency: Ahead of ministers' discussion on access to medicines, the European Cancer Leagues called on them to "push for transparency and inter-governmental knowledge exchange revealing list prices of medicines in different EU countries" to empower governments and payers to have a stronger position in drug price negotiations.
